The Pre Training Review is a two-way platform between Ozford and you as the prospective student to determine your suitability for the course you are applying for or otherwise to determine a more appropriate qualification for you to enrol in. It ensures that you have a clear understanding of the demands and outcomes of the course and that Ozford understands your objectives for undertaking the course. This review is also a way for you to indicate whether you have any previous or current work experience or whether you wish to apply for recognition of competencies previously achieved (via RPL other AQF courses). At the conclusion of the pre-training review, Ozford will make an assessment and the outcomes will be communicated to you. It is advised that you read the Student Handbook, review the Ozford policies and procedures and consider the course information on the Ozford website prior to attempting this PTR.
